Once again, we want to remind ourselves of where we have been and where we are now.

First, we learned The Big Moon Map is the overall map of our lives. On it we have all the versions of the StarMaiden Circle that are the directional foundation of all the circles within circles. As we drill down into each of these circles, we see that the overlays of the StarMaiden Map apply to every single circle. We use one of the arrows in our quiver, every single time we make a choice, from the earth shattering to the most mundane. We learned how we actually break down those choices into steps that happen every time we make any choice, and that those steps are contained in the Infinity Movement. We also learned that each of those steps, there is both a Masculine and Feminine aspect to each step, as well as a light and a dark aspect of each of those. We then learned how to "spin" your wheel to redirect your steps. And we did that in your StarMaiden Dance. In your Astrology reading, I hope you could see the shift that is now taking place in your life.

Even though that shift is taking place in every aspect of your life continually, you may come across circumstances where you feel the shift may not be happening fast enough, or you may feel particularly stuck in a specific area. You may want to look a specific difficulty more deeply and move it along with a StarMaiden dance. You can do this by following the protocols we followed in Modules 17 – 20 focusing on a specific area. Early in our time together it was suggested that you track significant events in your life and plot them so you could see your patterns. If you have done this, it could be quite helpful in deciding what you will choose to specifically work on. However, it is not necessary. You can simply choose the area that seems troublesome and begin working through the process. This will also serve as a review so whenever you run into difficulty, you will know what to do.

The first step that you will do this week is figure out what you want to work on. In order to do this, you will want to revisit yourself in your original sitting position, the place you were born. First look over the infinity symbol below and begin to remind yourself of each of the positions.

8

So place your infinity symbol for the TONAL spin, over the wheel above, with 3 on your birth spot, your sitting place. Notice where all the steps plot out. You may want to make copies of this page so you can use it to plot different positions as we move forward. You can retrace your steps again and again, any time you feel the need to move some energy.

9

Once you have done this, you will want to go through the dark arrows in each position. Look at both the feminine and the masculine aspect. Ask yourself how each of these dark aspects pertains to your specific issue that you are addressing. Make notes on each position like we did before. You can even begin the dark arrow work. Utilizing the outlines below.

10

The following is a description of both the dark and light mirrors of the female and male energies as they exert their influence at each point around the Star Maiden Circle. Remember that balance is achieved when we can hold both energies with equal intensity.

- SOUTH

Dark Reflection of the Female Energy
The Helpless Victim Syndrome: needing to be rescued; gain tears which place the female into the mythological roles of the damsel in distress. Without pain there is no gain. "I cannot be desirable as a woman unless I am needing to be rescued." "I am lost by myself!"

Light Reflection of the Female Energy
Based on a woman's ability to give with tenderness, to have hardness and humility, willingness to be vulnerable. Choose pleasure and knowledge instead of pain and ignorance. Sensitivity to align with Grandmother Earth, Mother Earth and a resonance with the Four Worlds. When we are grounded in this way it is hard to throw us out of our center, for we are connected to Nature that we can always experience healing and rejuvenation from Her.

Dark Reflection of the Male Energy
The Macho Male Syndrome: Based on the need to control, this energy is the height of self-importance. With this energy we must and can always "take home the bacon" and "slay the dragon", but we are an emotional vampire and use our emotions to battle for control.

Light Reflection of the Male Energy
One who can reach out to others when asked, can touch self, life and others with beauty. Total compassion, an innate sense of justice and multiple viewing points of righteousness. It is not dictated by emotions, but resonates with them and follows whatever is the strongest energy that is present. Able to perceive and is not a quitter.

- SOUTHWEST

Dark Reflection of Female Energy
Fear of any and all female energy results in closed symbols centered around womanhood. The basic core belief that is acted out here is that female = weak = lost, abandoned or attacked. These are the rape victims, the home-leaver wives who completely give their power away and will not confront their dark innermost on any level. Whenever this is so, total reality goes out of balance also.

Light Reflection of the Female Energy
This is the explorer and adventurer who loves to open closed symbols because it is exciting to do so. The quality of receptivity contains no value judgments. It has multiple viewing points: first, the ability to see everything as it is; second, the ability to see alternatives and the way it could be; and third, no expectations about how it must be. The quality of creativity includes the ability to understand our own resource circle and the limitations and boundaries it creates as well as the knowledge and ability to add to our resource circle in such a way as to extend those limitations and boundaries. This allows us to know when to delegate authority and when to do the task ourselves.

11

Dark Reflection of Male Energy
This is the classic emotional and physical manipulator. The core belief that is operative here is "The only way to succeed is to walk over people!" This wickedness is the opposite of compassion. This mythology is held within and perpetuated by the rapist, wife beater, sacrosanct executive, and the best male role in many popular television shows.

Light Reflection of Male Energy
Taking full responsibility for our decisions and actions is a prerequisite for this reflection. Putting ourselves onto the Mindless Wheel (pg. 178) and the Five Perceptions of Reality Wheel (pg. 342), by putting us in the Light Arrow (pg. 64-66) and actualizing our dream, we show ourselves into the center of our own circle. In this way, our life will become an ongoing Vision Quest. Life is a ceremony.

- WEST

Dark Reflection of Female Energy
In this case we are in a continuous war between female and male power in which there is no win-win solution possible. We are over-powered by the abilities of the male energy and give away our power to the male in order to survive. We blame male energy for everything that is wrong in order to avoid feeling guilty and ashamed for not honoring the feminine. In this context, a turnaround is necessary: women must become warriors and men must become nurturers.

Light Reflection of Female Energy
Taking control of our own words and events, manifesting the latent (our psychic gifts), holding with intimacy the precursors of life and death, makes it possible for us to use our creativity, realizing that it is the dignity of life and death itself that must be believed.

Dark Reflection of Male Energy
The driving need for material gain, possessions and success overrides intimacy and relationship. Rather than developing into a woman who knows the balance of the female and male, we become a supreme manipulator and collector, mistaking that to be the woman.

Light Reflection of Male Energy
Here we see a sensitivity and respect of the highest order for life and others. This will prompt the following questions: first, protecting our loved ones; second, providing for our reality needs; third, looking after ourselves. Another characteristic of this reflection is the ability to create a space of stability in an ever-changing and chaotic situation.

For both female and male energies in the dark, this reflection consists of being in the past while being worried about the future and, thus, being oblivious to the present. Caught in the dark, we blame life and others for our reality and are unwilling to see reality as it actually is, unwilling to take responsibility for ourselves.

When female and male energies are balanced, we gain the ability to gather together all our resources and walk our talk with responsibility.

• NORTHWEST

Dark Reflection of Female Energy
 In being on the receiving, accepting and absorbing of the imagination, the rules and laws are controversial and taken into physical form. The following rules and laws are formulated: "It is only through motherhood that my body is identified as female." "Living life is painful." "It is only through pain and suffering that I prove my worth as a human being." "I must beg, ask, receive and hold onto that which I need." Unconsciously, the energy subjects the body to pain to prove its strength, to prove that it is stronger than that of a male body.

Light Reflection of Female Energy
 Under speaking and knowing is dark language, body image and body rhythm is a natural gift that comes when receiving and knowing is light with the cycles of the moon and sacred law.

Dark Reflection of Male Energy
 This is the rebel complex, fighting all rules and laws. This energy prevents death-producing scenarios to prove superiority over the female. Men go to war or engage in sexual abuse. This compounds our anatomy and we are too busy to see and not capable of multiple organs. Our physical bodies are either "broken" or in a state of being, having any muscle control.

Light Reflection of Male Energy
 Men are in the know. This energy allows us to get our body to do what it knows how to do naturally. We are able to expand any limitation and boundary to direct proportion to how far we can imagine doing so.

The balance of female and male energies in the Northwest gives us the ability to alter our physical being and move through all time, space, dimensional realities at will using breath. Both female and male light reflections can be gained through understanding that the body is an image of actualized. The higher our mental energy, the more pleasure the body can experience. Techniques to work towards this are breaths, imaging, muscle relaxation and contraction, heart and the five breaths.

• NORTH

Dark Reflection of Female Energy
 Without reciprocity we become inflexible, opinionated and locked into a specific frame of reference. Creativity then becomes turned inward, one-dimensional, and anything outside of the one way is seen as wrong, bad and evil. Humanity or compassion is lacking, but definite moral and ethical judgments and prohibitions abound.

Light Reflection of Female Energy
 In order to reflect this, the natural, sculpted and around core beliefs must be abandoned from our frame of reference. Reciprocity, creativity and performance are used to develop the highest potential of the mind and the most comprehensive points of view.

Dark Reflection of Male Energy
 This energy begins to determine with the mind that is the brain according to the realized, sculpted and around core beliefs. This self-motivated as dogmatic and holding to inflexible positions.

Light Reflection of Male Energy
 In order to reflect this, the mind is to be open, know and to be open according to follow through. Conceptual mind energy in the light allows the full measure of what has been placed without any walls.

For both the female and male energies in the dark there are two common, inseparable characteristics: these male and female are in the mind as a dimension which manifests as mental and/or emotional behaviors. The other is the mind is used as a great (which manifests as ignorance or hyperbolic tendencies) in order to achieve a balance of the female and male energies in the light, require a continuous of new coming points in anything that requires a solution. Change the mind that is the mind and the greatest learning. At that point you are able to stay in the other and open mind. Understand the value of knowledge in all aspects of self expression.

Dark Reflection of Female Energy
 An improper reflection of energies results in the inability to properly use our receptive and creative energies. It may feel that both to understand, choice or decision making, to share in relation. Although we are always dealing with change and movement, including the heavy parent law of them, this dark female energy prevents us, push off making a decision and cannot make up to it.

Light Reflection of Female Energy
 Proper reflection results in being receptive to seeing every issue that is possible to see and being creative to see the very possibilities, and to move decisively within each issue that is presented.

Dark Reflection of Male Energy
 Improper reflection of energies results in reaction without a proper response or past action. At the moment of choice we target the best of choice, spirit, and finally increase the choice. Again our actions are emotional and dogmatic. Old patterns are re-created even though they may not be suitable to a new situation. Such decision-making pattern requires obsessive-compulsive behavior as common.

Light Reflection of Male Energy
 Proper reflection of energies results in being open to the direction of movement that the universe is taking and using action to move with it. This is movement effort with maximum efficiency in knowing when to act and when not to act or to leave the situation.

Improper balance of female and male energies, compounded by those in the dark, lead to the development of physical personality, fanaticism and even to terrorism.

• EAST

Dark Reflection of Female Energy
 Although the female energy in this place should be determining with passion and love, we see a complete denial of organs, self pleasure and knowledge. When we are unable to understand the material part that normally plays in the hands of our body and our general happiness, we shut down both our receptivity and creativity. Often we hold others responsible for our unhappiness.

Light Reflection of Female Energy
 In this case we have the ability to focus our receptiveness through our free will and, thus, be completely open and receptive to our full creativity.

Dark Reflection of Male Energy
 This is the inability to require our self without looking for approval and recognition for what we have done.

Light Reflection of Male Energy
 This is the ability to put any action the power of our receptiveness through our free will, and to give pleasure and knowledge to the world for the pure joy and beauty of being the great deity.

The dark reflection of both female and male energies occurs whenever we live our life for others. We have no vision, no artistic originality and creativity. This leads us to take a job or career because others want us to do it. Our self-worth and self-esteem are dependent on the recognition, acceptance, approval and support of others. We act out a feeling based on the illusion rather than the reality of who we are and what we are doing. A complete balance of the female and male energies in the light leads us to individual freedom and autonomy.

• SOUTHEAST

Dark Reflection of Female Energy
 This is the classic "poor me" syndrome. We choose the dark arrows to validate our existence because we are receptive only to our own circle of fear and thus create a life in fear. It seems, at that point, that we know ourselves only by the amount of fear we experience.

Light Reflection of Female Energy
 We use the quality of receptivity to pick up the arrow of self-awareness, and we use our creativity to pick up the arrow of self-appreciation and self-acceptance.

Dark Reflection of Male Energy
 In this case, the dark reflection comes out through a low concept of self and is expressed in revenge: "You better... or else!" "If I hurt, so should you!" We actively look for ways to prove ourselves at the expense of others. The conceptive aspect leads us to enjoy the pain of others. It may even lead to sadomasochistic behavior which has an obsessive-compulsive flavor.

Light Reflection of Male Energy
 The active energies are now used to pick up the arrows of self-pleasure and self-love, and the conceptive energies are used to pick up self-actualization and impeccability.

If both the female and male energies are utilized in the dark, phobias are often the result. A perfect balance of female and male energies in the light brings us the Rainbow Arrows of illumination and enlightenment; introspection and intuition; trust, innocence and perfection; balanced alignment with wisdom; open heart to heart communication; impeccability as one's self-worth and the actualization of our Sacred Dream.

Homework

Use the big moon map to refer to major life events if you plotted them. If not, just pick someplace where you still feel stuck.

Then begin to write releases for your dark arrows (7) in each position. Come back next week to see what you learned.
